

Submissions are now open for the international literary competition "Russkiy Glagol"

10.07.2026

A project for everyone who creates in Russian abroad.

"Russkiy Glagol" — a platform where the Russian word resonates around the world, bringing together authors from different countries. It is a chance to make yourself known, find like-minded people, and become part of a global cultural dialogue.

Russian citizens living outside the country, as well as foreign authors writing in Russian, may participate. There are no age restrictions — the main thing is that the word is yours.

Nominations: prose, poetry, dramaturgy, children's literature.

The winners will have their works published in the magazine "Russkoye Pole", receive a trip to Moscow for a round table discussion, and gain extensive media coverage.

Submissions will be accepted from July 10 to September 10, 2026.

For more details about the competition and how to apply, visit rusglagol.org.

The competition is implemented with the support of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation, the Presidential Fund for Cultural Initiatives, the Union of Writers of Russia, the Association for Economic Cooperation with African Countries, and others.